Dear Ophir,

I would like to thank you for your new book, "The Best Way", which you have sent to me, as well as for your kind words.

From within the pages of the book arise words of advice and interesting ideas that are rooted in the belief in the optimistic and vital spirit of man, and in the value of human dignity.

The potential that is hidden inside every man is so great, that at times we are not aware of the entirety of its depth. Your book is intended to aid in discovering and empowering this awareness – to walk in the best way possible for yourself and your surroundings, to dare and to change.

I wish you blessings of success with your book and initiatives.

Congratulations,

Shimon Peres
